Lank

Random Condom
Remix by Barry Jamieson

To kick off 2012 and the label's 36th release, AlterImage Recordings welcomes back one of the biggest names in electronic dance music (EDM) of 2011, Peter Goylan, AKA, Lank!

Between a slew of international gigs Lank has had a number of monster releases in the past year on labels like microCastle, Outside the Box and Baroque and makes his long awaited return to AIR with "Random Condom".

Random Condom is a techy and bouncy number that floats long with precise percussion and a melodic hook that will keep the dancefloor moving. Peter's production talents come through in every aspect, creating futuristic a sound a previous generation couldn't even dream of.

On remix duties is none other than Barry Jamieson. Barry's past work in the studio has led to some of the biggest and most classic releases in EDM. Whether working with Sasha on the Involver series or creating the soundscapes of shows like the international CBS hit, CSI, Barry's talent is not easily matched and this shows in his incredible remix. Cutting edge, modern and still familiar, Barry takes Random Condom to another level that can only be described as "awesome" with fat basslines, moving drums and a perfect play on the original's hook.
